SECTION G - DEVELOPMENT

The current planning policy for South Gloucestershire allows, in principle, small scale infill development within a defined boundary around Charfield. Planning policy also allows 'affordable' housing schemes to meet local needs as an 'exception' to normal planning policy in rural areas. The answers to the following questions will provide the first stage of residents views being gathered about the subject of development. One of the 'Actions' that may come out of the Charfield Village Plan is the preparation of a 'Neighbourhood Plan' which would be specifically about the subject of development. The Government has introduced these plans to give communities more influence on the planning and development of their local area.

G1 Overall how would you like to see Charfield in 10 years time?
